

With competition at the heart of current political debate, we invite you to:

Competition policy: Serving the public interest?

A one day conference 21 June 2010 Canada House, Trafalgar Square

Professor John Bridgeman CBE

Formerly Director General of Fair Trading

Albert Foer

President, American Antitrust Institute

Professor John Kay

London Business School, Director: Institute for Fiscal Studies

Philip Blond

Founder, ResPublica, author of Red Tory

A selection of UK and international speakers explore new approaches to competition policy

With the kind support of the Federal Government of Canada, cost per delegate is held at £100 ea (including buffet lunch)

AVAILABILITY IS STRICTLY LIMITED

To reserve your place please email Professor Alan Hallsworth on a.hallsworth@surrey.ac.uk

